Old California 7th National Guard, 160th Regiment of 40th Division Is Given Big Welcome in Southern City

Governor Stephens Is Among Notables Who Speak; Eastbay Represented by Number of Vets Going to Camp

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—The 160th regiment of the 40th division, which before it went overseas in the American Army was the California National Guard Infantry, returned to its home and relatives today after one year and eight months in Federal service, with a long record of service under fire. The people of Los Angeles and adjacent towns and cities lined the streets for the day and in a dense mass of hysterically cheering, shouting and waving the downtown streets, paying the pathway of the regiment with flowers, and erecting its members with cheers and tears.

The regiment was not the one that went away. Many of the early personnel remained in France—some in the forest of the Argonne and some on other fields. The gaps had been filled by transfer to enlistment.

1000 Unarmed Koreans Slain in Three Hours, Says Shanghai Cable

Natives Shot, Beaten and Otherwise Tortured by Japanese in Seoul, Pastor Declares; Naked Women Flogged Before Crowds in Streets

FORBIDDEN TO CARE FOR WOUNDED

Japanese began what was described as a "massacre" in Korea at Seoul, the capital, during a demonstration March 23, according to a cablegram received today by the Korean National Association in San Francisco from a native Christian pastor.

SEUL, April 10, via Tokyo.—(By the United Press.)—Foreigners here are showing considerable anxiety because of the nightly present on the streets of Japanese in civilian garb, some of them in the dress of Koreans, who are carrying heavy loads and waylaying pedestrians. These Japanese have terrorized the Koreans.

FOREIGNERS HERE MOVED UP THEIR DINNER HOUR IN ORDER THAT THEIR NATIVE SERVANTS MAY ARRIVE HOME BEFORE DARK.

Some foreigners have suggested to Japanese officials that it may be necessary for foreigners to take individual measures for self protection.

In reply to protests of this nature, officials replied that the police of Seoul have been greatly augmented, but that all wear the regular police uniforms. Japanese officials declared that the sticks are being carried by Koreans, who fear attacks by Koreans.

Disturbances in the interior of Korea have necessitated the taking of extraordinary measures, according to Japanese officials.

De Valera Tendered Compromise, Report

PARIS, April 12.—The Dublin correspondent of the Press reported that he had been reliably informed that a deputation from Paris offered Edward de Valera home rule for Ireland as a condition of his leaving the Sinn Féin.

The Irish parliament yesterday debated the league of nations. De Valera was the chief opponent of the league. He and other members of the parliament denied what they termed President Wilson's change in policy. Arthur Griffith defended Wilson and urged the signing of a peace treaty on the basis of the principles he has enunciated.

New Party Demands Irish Independence

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—Recognition of the Russian soviet republic, the Irish Independent reported today, was demanded by the new labor party of Illinois.

A new trial for Thomas J. Mooney and W. K. Billings, convicted of murder in San Francisco in connection with the preparedness day parade bomb explosion, was also demanded.

CINCINNATI, O., April 12.—City firemen, who tendered a blanket resignation to city officials yesterday as the result of discharge of four firemen because they belonged to a union organization, started leaving their homes about 7 a. m. today. Baron Rosen Warns of Bolshevik Evil

NEW YORK, April 12.—Baron Rosen, formerly Russian ambassador to the United States and one of the peace plenipotentiaries who settled the war between Russia and Japan, in an address today, before the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce, his first public utterance since arriving in America, an exile from his native land, declared that it was the deadly poison of Bolshevism which brought about the defeat of Russia and the death of Germany, and that its "undead" rise and "stuporous" growth should be a solemn warning to the ruling classes in all belligerent countries.

Preston, her daughter, a cotillion of the most intimate friends of the hostess and honor guest being present. The occasion being Mrs. Gardner's birthday anniversary, she was the recipient of many notes of congratulation.

Seated at the luncheon table were: Mrs. Raymond Newson, Mrs. J. Crowley, Mrs. C. S. Welsh, Mrs. John E. Black, Mrs. M. A. Preston, Mrs. J. W. Wilford, Mrs. Fred Spear, Mrs. Charles S. Gardner, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Charles S. Gardner.

FRESHMAN GLEE HELD AT UNIVERSITY.
The freshman glee at college was the largest of the spring for those in the freshman year at the University of California. The dance was held in Harmon gymnasium on the campus and attended by about 250 couples. Many informal dinner parties preceded the gala event, and at the chapter houses several interesting dinners were given.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grant Lohmann and their little son, Edward Beverly, who has attained the age of three months, reside on this side of the bay. For some weeks, Mrs. Lohmann and her young son remained in San Francisco, where the little one made his advent into the world at Lane hospital.

VISITING FRIENDS IN SARATOGA.
Miss Frances Whitley, the fiancée of Rene Guillou, is visiting in Saratoga, having motored there for the blossom season. Upon her return, Miss Whitley plans to have her wedding which in all probability will be about the middle of May. She has been the inspiration for a number of interesting parties among a college contingent.

A group of the younger matrons from the Eastbay cities will be guests of Mrs. P. J. Crowley Monday afternoon, the hostess being at the St. Francis hotel. Among those who will cross the bay will be Mrs. Charles S. Gardner, Mrs. John E. Black, Mrs. Roy Greenleaf, Mrs. Roy Wilford, Mrs. Fred Spear, Mrs. M. A. Preston, Mrs. William J. Conroy and Mrs. Edward Place.

WEDDING FOLLOWS COLLEGE DAY ROMANCE.
A romance of college days culminated in the marriage of Miss Alice Leone Fleener and Lieutenant Gene K. Sturgis at Hotel de Ville Dijon, France, March 8, according to word received by relatives of the couple in this city.

Lieutenant Sturgis and his bride were graduated from the University of California. Lieutenant Sturgis has been in active service in France since June, 1917, while his bride was engaged in social service work under the Red Cross Association in England and France since July, 1918.

The marriage of the two former college classmates abroad occurred when the bride was transferred in her work from England to France and Lieutenant Sturgis was attached to an army school in France.

Having received a furlough of two weeks, the couple are spending their honeymoon in the Pyrenees mountains.

The bride is the daughter of the late Rev. W. F. Fleener and Mrs. Elizabeth Fleener of Piedmont.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Sturgis of San Francisco.

WILL ENTERTAIN AT DINNER PARTY.
A dinner party will be given this evening by Mrs. Grace Alexander Gray, who will entertain a dozen friends at the home of her sister, Mrs. Glenn C. Barnhart.

A wedding over the bay which took place this afternoon and was of special interest to society, Berkeley was that of Miss Ruth Seelye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seelye, and Harold Gladstone Snodgrass, son of the late David Snodgrass, a pioneer banker of the San Joaquin valley.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of California and has recently been mustered out of the service.

The bride is a graduate of one of the fashionable schools for young girls about the bay.

Earl Bleshe, husband entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland yesterday for a number of friends, and among his guests were Mrs. Arthur C. Latham, Miss Madeline Tardie, Miss Clara Farnley, Mrs. F. McHugh, Robert Power and P. M. Hall.

The Percy Walkers and their family have gone to their place in the Santa Cruz mountains for the week-end. The place is one of the attractive cottages in the resort where many jolly parties are held throughout the summer season.

Hospitality Is Real at Club Convention

By GEORGIA G. BORDWELL.
Hospitality, than which there is no greater virtue, made the eighteenth annual convention of the Alameda District of Women's Clubs a thing which every woman—whether she were a delegate, a visitor or only a club editor—remember for many a day with a glow of pleasure and a warm feeling about the heart that she was really welcome in Martinez.

The social side of the convention—on which the printed program was not especially featured, but which was noted at the bottom of each page like this, "Tea at Walnut Creek"—"Tea at Crockett"—was so genuine, so wholly a spontaneous expression of the desire of the community to take the visitors to their hearts that it deserves a story of its own.

The Women's Club of Walnut Creek entertained Tuesday afternoon, using the Masonic Temple as a setting for the tea.

One naturally expects good food in a place like Walnut Creek—why not? Women in communities of that name have not yet lost the art of fine art of cooking. One naturally expects beautiful decoration—why not, with every tree looking like a tumble of white lace against the April sky? But it is a joint to the surprise of the visitor that a city dweller that only city people thoroughly understand the social amenities to go to Walnut Creek and find not only good food, decorations that put to shame any professional decorator, but the exquisite table linen loaned by members of the club—delicate china, shining silver, dainty tables ready to receive ravenous guests—for long sittings and a day and a night of city appetite.

The lodgeroom upstairs was like fairy land, with its faintly-perfumed blossoms and its music. The tables were set downstairs and there was no sign of the city life of tea and water that is so often offered at tea—there were cakes straight from real kitchens and sandwiches that home hands had made, and cream for the coffee that didn't look real, so unaccustomed is one to have to almost lift it out of the pitcher with a spoon.

Walnut Creek—you are a city in everything but size—so take heart. Crockett Woman's Club entertained in its own clubhouse. The fact that Crockett has a clubhouse of such size and equipped building is almost beyond belief until one learns that the sugar refinery at Crockett has built, equipped and maintained not only a clubhouse for the men of the town, but also one for the women—clubhouses that add immeasurably to the development and contentment of the people.

The report of the district treasurer revealed the fact that the convention that Alameda district established a financial record this year in spite of unusual demands made upon the treasury. The sum of $26,710 remains as a surplus—more than at any other year.

As a feature of the convention, "Auld Lang Syne" was sung at the opening. This little ceremony belongs peculiarly to the Alameda district—it has been sung at the opening of every convention since the existence of the district.

BEAUTIFUL EXHIBIT OF WILD FLOWERS.
The Girls' Division of the War Camp Community Service issues a special invitation to the public to visit the clubhouses Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday afternoon and Tuesday evening for the purpose of enjoying the wild flower exhibit which has been arranged by the girls under the direction of Mrs. Esther Snyder.

Not only all the wild flowers of Alameda county, which the girls will collect on their hike Sunday, but flowers from Stockton, Monterey, Sonoma, Colusa and Trinity will be shown. There are a number of hiking parties being arranged for Sunday. Some will leave in the morning and some in the afternoon. The girls extend an invitation to men in uniform to join these parties. Notices will be posted in the Defenders' Club, telling the boys when and where to meet the girls.

A conference in the form of a question box, into which may be questions on problems of teacher, parent and child will be the feature of the next meeting of the Technical High Teachers' Club, which will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

This morning's session, which closed the convention of the San Francisco district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, was featured by an address by Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson on "What Shall We Do About It?" Mrs. Edson, who perhaps knows more about women in Pacific than any one else on the Pacific Coast, talked on this subject and what it means not only to the woman who works but the woman who does not. Reports from clubs throughout the district consumed remaining time.

The next meeting of the Hill club will be Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. A. Spencer, 270 Santa Clara avenue. This week the club met at the residence of Mrs. J. P. Wiggins, with Mrs. E. H. Bassett and Mrs. J. C. Bassett as assistant hostesses.

DR. SILSLEY WILL TALK ON DEATH SUBJECT

Special Palm Sunday services will be held at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening. In the evening Rev. Dr. Frank M. Silsley, D. D., will preach on "Will Death Conquer You or You Conquer Death?" In this sermon he will answer many questions of death and the hereafter which have been raised by the bereaved of the plague that has been during the last year. There are hundreds of people in Oakland who have lost loved ones during the last year. The scientific and scripture definition of death will be interesting and comforting. The speaker will tell the difference between the popular idea of death as something terrible and the foundation in science, scripture or experience. What is the difference between the street understanding of death and Christ's revelation concerning death? Why is it that so many people who are here elsewhere are panic-stricken in time of death? What positive assurance is there that we shall live on and recognize our loved ones? Dr. Silsley will present two or three interesting facts of the science of death.

This is the first in a series of sermons on "Thine to Conquer" relating to the Easter season. The subject on Easter Sunday evening will be "What is the Intermediate State?" April 27, "Is the Second Coming of Christ Mythical or Real?" May 4, "Is the Final Rerouting of Fate?"

The quiet and chorus will give a special Palm Sunday program. The congregational service at 7:30 will be led by Mr. Ironmonger.

In the morning Dr. Silsley will preach on "The Resurrection of the Dead" at 11 a. m. The chorus will sing "The Resurrection of the Dead" by Fauré-Buck. The church has its congregational meeting on Wednesday evening. The report of the clerk showed that the church had increased 39 in membership during this past year.

The first church is one of the fastest growing in the whole denomination. The sum of $12,000.50 was raised for congregational expenses outside from the benevolence contributions, which were large. The reports of the societies will be heard at the meeting on Wednesday evening.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President of church society, George Kirk; secretary, William J. Condit; elders, John W. Aljes, Dr. J. C. Condit, A. P. Winstler, John A. Verner, George Kirk.

COOPERATIVE PLAN OF SALVATION

Christ Alone Cannot Save You

By Dr. JAMES E. TALMAGE

Of the Council of the Twelve, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Salt Lake City, Utah.

NOTE: For free copies of other articles of this series, send request to the author.

We believe that through the Atonement of Christ all mankind may be saved, by obedience to the laws and ordinances of the Gospel.

In earlier articles of this series it has been shown that mortality is divinely provided as a means of schooling and test, whereby the spirit offspring of God may develop their powers and demonstrate their characters. Every one of us has been advanced from the unembodied or pre-existent state to our present condition, in which the individual spirit is temporarily united with a body of flesh and bones. Yet this promotion to the mortal state is regarded by many as a degradation; and we are prone to bewail the fallen condition of the race as an unmitigated calamity. It was the plan to Him that death would enter the world, even above the plane upon which he existed before his birth in the flesh. We have stooped that we may conquer; we have been permitted to descend that we may attain greater heights.

The transgression of our parents in Eden was foreseen, and the Divine plan provided a means of redemption. The Eternal Father, who is verily the Father of our spirits, well understood the diverse natures and varied characters of His children; and it was plain to Him that if, from the beginning, that in the school of mortal life some would succeed while others would fail; some would be faithful and others false; some would choose the good, others the evil; some would seek the way of life while others would follow the road to destruction. He foresaw that His commandments would be disobeyed and His law violated; and that men, shut out from His presence and left to themselves would sink rather than rise, would retrograde rather than advance, and would be lost to the heavenly world. He planned to Him that death would enter the world, even above the plane upon which he existed before his birth in the flesh. We have stooped that we may conquer; we have been permitted to descend that we may attain greater heights.

A Redeemer was chosen, and that even before the foundation of the world. He, the first-born among all the spirit children of God, was to come to earth, to live, to die, to be buried, to rise again, to be glorified, and to establish on earth the terms and conditions of salvation. In consummation of His mission, Christ gave up His life as a voluntary and vicarious sacrifice for the race. Through the Atonement wrought by Him the power of death has been overcome, for while all men must die, their resurrection is assured. The effect of Christ's Atonement upon the race is two-fold:

1. The eventual resurrection of all men, whether righteous or wicked. This constitutes redemption from the Fall, and, since the Fall came through individual transgression, in all justice relief therefrom must be made universal and unconditional.

2. The providing of a means whereby reparation may be made and forgiveness be obtained for individual sin. This constitutes Salvation, and is made available to all through obedience to the laws and ordinances of the Gospel.

Between redemption from the power of death and salvation in the Kingdom of Heaven there is a vital difference. Man alone cannot save himself; Christ alone cannot save him. The plan of salvation is co-operative. The Atonement effected by the Lord Jesus Christ has opened the way for the redemption of the race. It has been the plan to Him that death would enter the world, even above the plane upon which he existed before his birth in the flesh. We have stooped that we may conquer; we have been permitted to descend that we may attain greater heights.

Jewish Celebration Begins April 14 Rabbi Franklin Back For Passover

Rabbi Harvey B. Franklin, after a prolonged absence on account of sickness, is welcomed back to Oakland in time to officiate at the Passover service at Temple Sinai at Twenty-eighth and Webster streets.

The celebration begins this year at sundown, April 14, with the seder service of Pasaal supper which is observed in the homes, where a special ritual known as the "Haggadah" is read.

This ritual contains the story of the redemption from servitude, certain recitations inspired by the memories of old, and certain psalms. This is followed by the feast meal after which Grace is recited and the seder continues with the reading of additional psalms, the recitation of prayers and the singing of time-honored hymns. To this home service stranger and homeless are cordially invited. On the table in front of him who presides over the meal are service and servitude, such as bitter herbs, reminder of the bitter lot of those who toiled in Egypt; a roasted lamb, calling to mind the ancient paschal lamb; a roasted egg, memorial of the free will offering that was brought in addition to the paschal lamb, parsley and the bowl of salt water, symbolizing the yass and its use in the first Passover observed in Egypt, and a confection of nuts and apples to represent the day which Israel worked into bricks.

The public celebration in the temple begins Tuesday, April 15, at 10 a. m. Passover service will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday.

A short service will be held Sunday, April 20, at 8 p. m.

According to biblical ordinances the feast that commemorated the new-born freedom of Israel is to be observed for a period of seven days. The celebration will end at Temple Sinai Monday, April 21, the seventh day of the Passover, with a service at 10 a. m.

Thereafter the regular Sabbath day services will be held every Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Paul will preach at 11 a. m. the subject will be "The Palm Sunday" and the sermon will be based on the story of the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem.

The Calvary church double quartet will sing the anthem and the solo numbers will be rendered by W. C. Grant who will sing "The Palm Sunday." At 7:30 p. m. Price will speak on "The Palm Sunday" and the congregation is assured of treat in the development of this very interesting and up-to-date theme. The double quartet will also sing at the evening service. The Sunday school has the largest attendance of the last eighteen months, and the Christian Endeavor society is growing in enthusiasm and numbers.

Phil Koerner Smashes Another Home Run Into the Bleachers While Seaton Holds Enemy Safe

Clymer Shakes Up Team by Benching Bill Leard and Playing Niehoff at Second

The Seattle Purple Sox ran true to form yesterday and the Seals took the nice end of a 5 to 0 score. Tom Seaton, who was not supposed to be in condition, applied the whitewash to the northern gang and Tom did a neat job at that. Seaton let the enemy down with six blows, and in only two innings was he in danger. In the third he allowed the visitors to jam the corners, but Compton was thrown out at the plate when Walsh hit a sharp single to right field. The Seattle players hollered loud and long over the decision of Umpire Eason, but his umps was right on top of the play and saw that Brooks stood right over the platter and took the throw from Fitzgerald via Corhan. In the eighth inning Compton and Niehoff singled, but no damage was done.

"Cocky" Bill Clymer shook up his team by benching Bad Bill Leard and playing Niehoff at second base. The latter was with New York last season, but broke a leg early in the year. There was nothing the matter with his perambulating apparatus yesterday and he managed to tear off a pair of blows. Niehoff is a better second baseman than Leard on the form he showed yesterday, but Wild Bill will earn his salary if he only keeps out there on the coaching line as he did yesterday and put some paper into the game. Niehoff's fielding was all that could be desired. He accepted six chances without a bobble.

Phil Koerner is going to give Art Griggs, the Sacramento slugger, an awful beating in the hitting honors this year if he maintains the pace he is traveling at. Phil crashed another homer into the left field bleachers yesterday and earned both a bat and a safety razor for himself. Phil shoved the sphere over the fence Wednesday and got a razor, so he can now shave twice a day. His four-ply wallop yesterday was a harder clout than the one of Wednesday as it cleared the fence by twenty feet. Fitz and the other four on the team were really mad at Koerner and got a pair of slugs and came within two feet of gutting another homer. The seventh when Compton picked the ball off the left-field boards. Winter baseball apparently agreed with Big Phil.

Abe Bowman, who has a chronic case of the "Slows," was on the hillcock for the Sox and lasted the route, although he was battered for seven singles and walked five men. Abe will have to speed up if he is going to make a hit with the fans and if he does not want to get in right with the crowd, he will have to get in right with the Sox. There is no use of permitting one lone player to spoil a perfectly good afternoon by stalling around on the hillcock. The fans are turning out in large and paying numbers, but they are going to get peeved if Bowman is slow. The crowd is not going to be slow, and if Bowman is slow, he is slower than Sammy Beer, and Sammy's only rival was cold molasses.

The Seals did not break into the tally column until the third, but they had a fine chance to cop some runs in the second. Koerner singled and was sacrificed along by Caveney. Schaller was hit by a pitched ball and Kild Kamm drew a walk. Here we had full house with one down. Clarence Brown next got out and Clarence forced Koerner at the plate on a weak grounder to Murphy at third base. Seaton was an infield out and the big chance went aglimmering.

In the seventh Fitzgerald singled, Corhan was safe on the pitchers' error and Harper singled to score Fitz. It was at this critical stage of the game that Compton picked Koerner's drive off the fence. Cavenay hit an infield fly and Schaller was out Niehoff to Gleichman.

Kid Kamm failed to get a hit yesterday, but he made Walsh buck up to the clubhouse to take him fly in the fourth inning. The kid drew a walk and accepted two fielding chances. He still looks like a million dollars.

Murphy was called out at second base in the fifth when most of the coach customers would have made affidavits that he was safe. Herb clicked a single and Land hit one to Cavenay, who threw to Corhan at second. Murphy looked safe by a pair of steps at least, but Red Held called him out.

Corhan pulled off another great play in the eighth when he stopped Walsh's hard-hit grounder and got a runner at second. Roy is as good a second sacker as he is a shortstop and he was the class of the Coast League shortstops last season.

Hal Dimmock is being groomed to pitch the Sunday afternoon game with Couch likely to work in the morning. Dimock made a sensational showing against the Cubs and Graham is confident the U. C. southpaw is 'there.'

NEWARK, N. J., April 12.—The International baseball league completed an eight-city circuit by awarding the franchise-licensing franchise to Reading.

DEER KILLED IN NEW JERSEY

Three hundred and sixty-four deer were killed in New Jersey during the 1918 season. This is quite a number when you consider that the season is only a few days over and that the deer are in the woods for only a few weeks. The weight of the kill amounted to 1,000,000 pounds.

Curtains, Collars & Outlets CHEER-UP COLUMN

By Elsie Robinson

Good Evening, Sister—
I've been thinking about this WIS-DOM of business "Jewer" read "Benedict" I've got a whole shelf of that
boy. "Jewer" read these books on psycho-analysis, that tell you where you keep all your monkey tendencies hid so they don't pop out at embarrassing moments, that show you carefully how in spite of what you thought was a decent life, you're really a lurking criminal? How when you dream "brown bread" it really means an eating desire for the fat man who lives around the corner? Uh-huh! Joke, little books aren't they? Jewer take your baby to one of these wholesale stock takings
and have his value reduced about 50 per cent by some chain-smoked Mrs. Pegion, who told you that he was three points deficient, and the rest somewhat damaged? Yep, that's all wisdom.
That's what we've done with our brains
since we lifted them an inch or so off the top of our eyeballs and started in to wear shirts. And between you 'n me, I think we've done darned little!

I've read 'em all. For years I just soused it all up until everyone who wasn't related to me or that I didn't owe a bill to, avoided me as they would the plague. And I'm thru! We start in with perfectly good, juicy, iridescent lives. We laugh over foot things, we chum with everyone that comes along,
and we like pictures of dead fish and apple blossoms mixed hanging on the dining-room walls. And then—We get wisdom and we learn to see the rottenness of everything. We've got to can the dead fish picture, and we mustn't believe anything anyone says because their subconscious selves are probably harboring sinister motives,
and we see how "foolishly primitive"
murder is, and how crude friendship
is, and—LIGHT ME FOR IGNORANCE.
All I want to know is how to make good fish balls and do my hair that new way.

I'm in love with this world. I like every kind of the old joint. I like all the people I meet. I like to tell them
my troubles, and I like to hear theirs,
and I believe anything they hand out,
and I don't care if most of it is hot air. Most of mine is too, so why quibble? If I like dead fish pictures I'm going to have them. And I don't believe this "lurking desire" fad. No desire over lurked long enough in me to pick its teeth—I always had to tell you. And I guess that's the way with the most of folks. An' if any old hen should tell me that my little boy was deficient, just because his ears never would be back like a rabbit's—why I'd lick my weight in wild cats to make her take it back.

Jolly! It is a nice world! Let's be foolish, sister, an' keep on believing it.

Odd Facts

Opium is the dried juice of the white poppy, a flower that grows in many parts of Asia. A few days after the flowers have fallen off the plants men go through the fields in the afternoon
and make little cuts in the poppy head.
Out of these cuts a milky juice oozes,
which dries into a brown, sticky paste.
Every morning the men go through the fields again and scrape off this paste, which they put into jars. Later on it is made into half-pound balls and then packed for shipment.

Adele Garrison's New REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

"No sure Richard has always been wonderfully thoughtful of me," she remarked coldly, "and, really, one cannot expect a busy professional man to find time for corresponding with all his relatives. If he writes to his mother regularly—as Richard has always done—I think he has done more than many sons do."
"No doubt Richard is a paragon," replied Cousin Agatha tartly, "but is that any reason why I shouldn't be introduced to Richard's wife?"
"I do beg your pardon, Cousin Agatha," Dicky replied coolly. "This is Madge," drawing me forward. "And if you will excuse me long enough to get into some decent toes I'm going to turn you and mother over to Madge. She'll take care of you. Luckily, I believe dinner is almost ready, isn't it, dear?"
He turned to me with a scarpish smile,
and no hint of the almost hair-pulling terms under which we had been existing before their taxi drew up.

"WHERE IS KATIE?"
"Almost ready," I stilled back, but with an inward tremor at the thought of the "pick-up dinner" I had planned for this Sunday, the last before we went into our new house. "But come into the library and take off your things, or will you go directly to your room?"
"You mean my room?" I corrected my mother-in-law. "You of course must remember that I never can stand having any one in my room. And Cousin Agatha, I also wishes a room to herself."
"Of course," I said, trying to make my voice sound cordially acquiescent.
"But I am afraid I must ask you both to go into your old room, mother, for two or three hours, until I can get another room ready. You see, we're a

THE OLD HUNDRED PRO.
I do not mind the partner who is shooting off the line,
I do not mind the fellow who is given
to a whine;
I can stand the fiery golfer who looks up and dithers and swears,
For the epithets he uses tell to me
how much he cares.
But the bird that gets my nanny and puts all my grit to wings
Is the chap who knows precisely what's the matter with my swing.

I've a normal disposition and I'd like to keep pino.
That all sorts of men are needed to make up this world, I know,
So I take 'em as I find 'em, and I hail the cheery sort.
And when I meet a growler, still I try to be a sport.
But the gink who slips my trolley on the fairway or the tee
Is the chap who has the notion he must reach the game to me.

I have never found it helped me
when my nerve was being tried
And my drives were short and lumpy
and my pitches going wide
To have some one simper sweetly
like a maiden to a pup:
"It's too bad your game's so rotten,
but I'm sure you're looking up."

If you'll watch me for a minute
while I make a swing or two,
I can show you in a hurry just exactly what you do."

Golf's game of bugs. I fancy, each of us who loves the game
For some reason or another is entitled to the name.
Some imagine it's the golf ball, some
imagine it's the club,
Some imagine it's the weather or the
caddy when they dub,
But of all the irritating freaks of golf, the worst I know
Is the chap who shoots a hundred,
yet imagines he's a pro.

Little upset just now, as we are moving,
and then I had no idea you were coming."

"Moving?" My mother-in-law's voice was filled with amazed disapproval.
"May I ask why I was not informed of this? Not that any place would not be better than this old shack," she sniffed
her disapproval of the Brennan home—
"but one would think I was a nonentity in my own son's home, that neither of you thought it worth while to tell me that you were moving. Where are you going?"

"Over on Chase avenue," I returned,
"and, indeed, mother, we intended no disrespect to you. We wanted to be all moved and settled when you came back, so that we could surprise you with our new home, which we hope will be much pleasanter for you than this."

"Well, you've surprised me, all right,"
my mother-in-law returned, but the acidity of her tone was much lessened,
and I began to hope that my valiant attempt at mollifying her had met with success. But her next question upset me completely.

"Where is Katie?" she said. "I want her to help us unpack these bags."
"Don't you know, Harriet," she said with a detached, impersonal air, as if she were discussing something which had no relation whatever to our conversation, "I have often wondered where your daughter Harriet found her maid.
They were the most wonderful girls. I don't think I ever saw one of them with a soiled apron, or in the least disheveled, even when performing the most menial of tasks."

MOTHER GRAMMA'S DEFENSE.
"Much Harriet had to do with it," returned my mother-in-law tartly. "She never knew what maids were in the house. I'm sure I tried every one she ever had. She was too busy helping her husband in his work to bother her head about the house. And I can tell you it took all my time and every scrap of energy I possessed keeping them up to the mark. I'd throw up my arms at this maid of Margaret's touch.
I couldn't keep her in order. I'm surprised Margaret manages her as well as she does. She's an unmitigated nuisance, but you see she's an old professionist. Richard's is devoted to Mar-

United Black FOLKS AND about THINGS

We sat together
at the little table in the corner of the
crowded restaurant,
my two old friends
and I. All of us
women past the
wild thrills of youth,
but each still interested in life and vitally full of the joy of living. Thirty years ago women of our age were called
old. Today we are just in the very
prime of life—that's one of the reasons
it's such fun to be alive.

We talked first about the weather,
and then about the armistice, and then about the peace conference, and then about the new skirts and how unbecoming all the skirts of the middle-aged figures. We didn't approve of low shoes and silk stockings in the dead of winter.

What a silly-looking thing the average girl was with her little doll's face and funny little affectation of childish-ness. How much nicer we were in our own youth when we stood up—straight and tried to look athletic and strong and clever, no matter how delicate and stupid and weak we really were.

Oh, we had a lovely time flattering ourselves and making middle-aged fun of the girls, and all the time we were to look at them with their bright eyes,
and we love to hear them talk in their light, joyous voices. What a world it would be, after all, without the girls and boys! I wouldn't want to live if every one was middle-aged and elderly or even just over 25 or 27. It would be like taking all the dew off the grass and all the sparkle out of the stars
and all the shine out of the moonlight—
and that would make this a very dull world, indeed, wouldn't it?

But, anyhow, the name of one we all knew came somehow into the conversation, and one of my friends put down her coffee cup and leaned across the table.

"Do you know," she said to my other friend, "I believe he loves you to this day."

My other friend drew a quick breath,
recovered herself, laughed and took up
her cup of coffee.

"Nonsense," she said. "He never did love me at all!"

"My dear," said the first friend, "I saw a good deal of him the summer before you married. He never mentioned your name, but he said once that there were certain hours in the day that always brought back to him a walk he had in the park with a woman he knew —he could see the sun shining in her hair, and somehow there was something about the way her feet moved
in and out under her foolish little skirts
that touched him to the heart."

"The other woman grew very, very pale."

"Did he say that, really?" she said.
"Yes," said my friend who was speaking, "he did, and just the other day
when I told him he spent again of
one, though he never mentioned your name. He was speaking of an actress
we had both just seen, and he mentioned the color of her hair and the
way she walked, and said something about the sun shining in her hair,
and somehow there was some-
thing about the way her feet moved
in and out under her foolish little skirts
that touched him to the heart."

"The other woman grew very, very
pale."

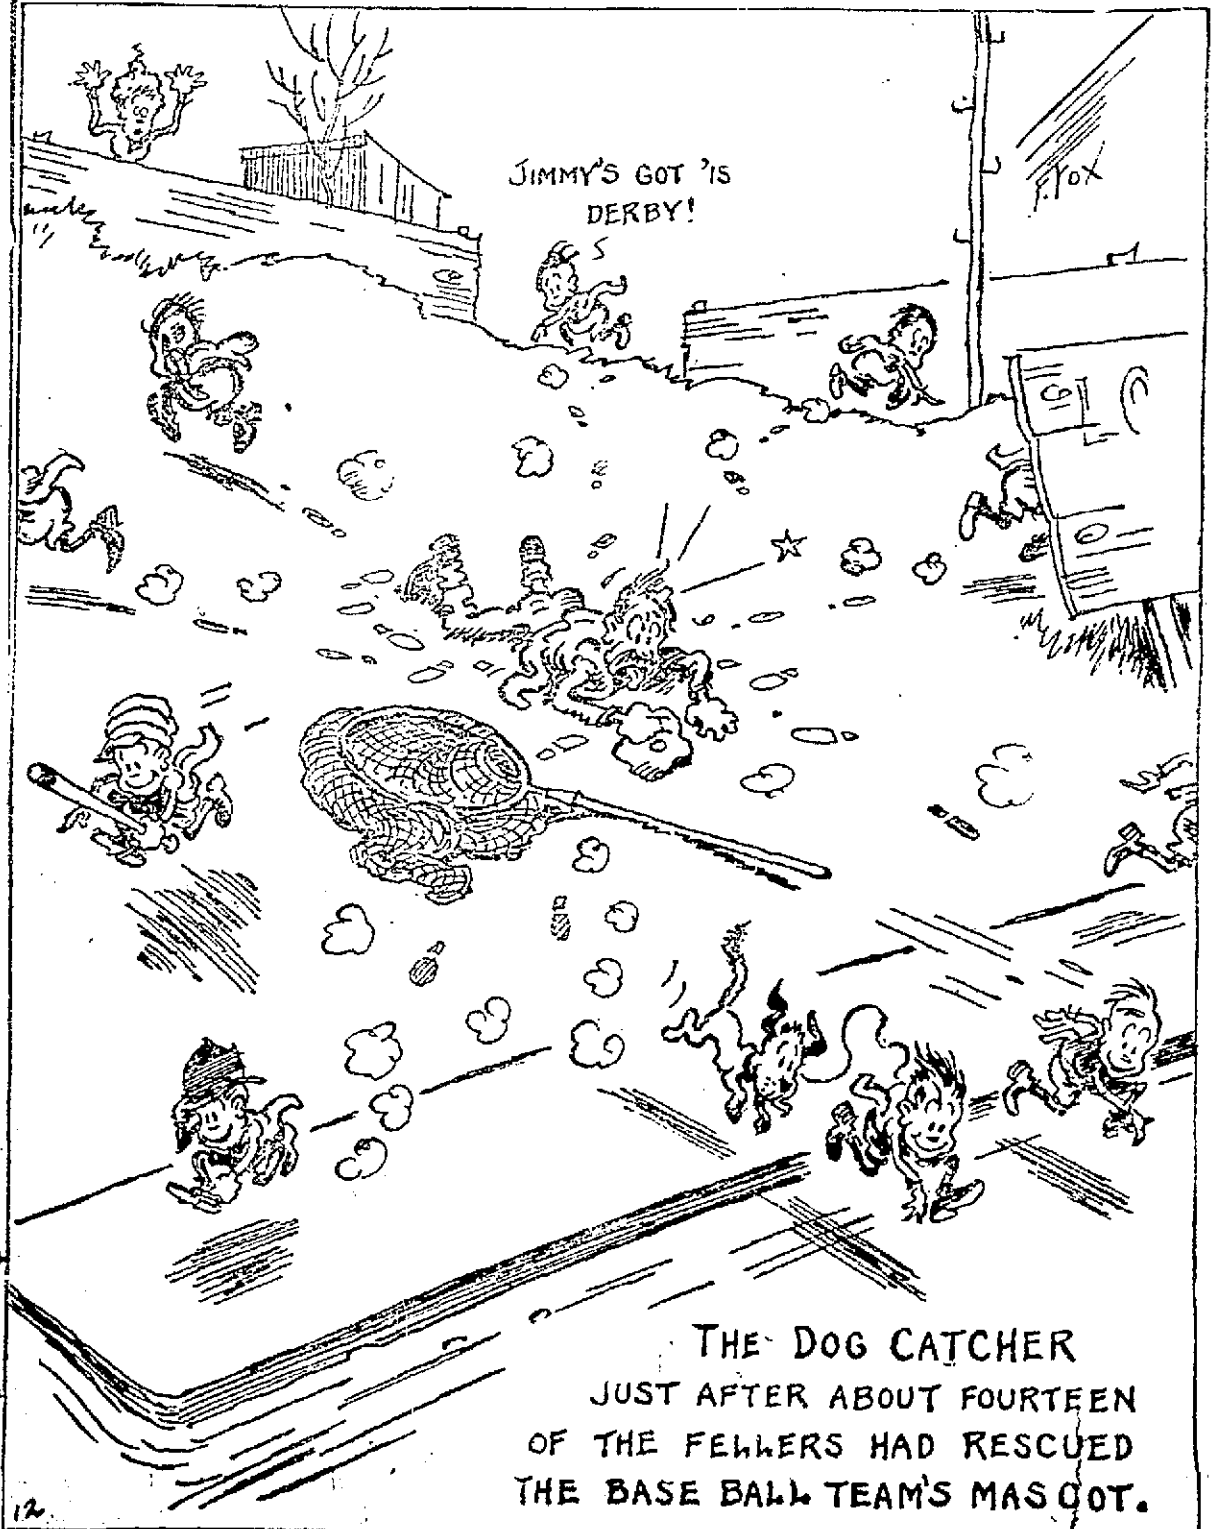

"Did he say that, really?" she said.
"Yes," said my friend who was speaking, "he did, and just the other day
when I told him he spent again of
one, though he never mentioned your
name. He was speaking of an actress
we had both just seen, and he mentioned the color of her hair and the
way she walked, and said something
about the sun shining in her hair,
and somehow there was some-
thing about the way her feet moved
in and out under her foolish little skirts
that touched him to the heart."

"We changed the subject, but when we left the restaurant to go home my friend looked somehow different,
ounger and sadder and yet in a strange way happier, too. I wonder why—for the man we spoke of was her divorced husband, and she is supposed never to think of him at all, and I happen to know that in her youth my friend was rehearsed for her pretty foot and for the way her hair looked when the sun shone on it.

She married again and so did the man
she loved when she was very young,
and yet—strange thing is a woman's heart and how difficult to understand!

NEW EFFORTS
FOR TITLE TO
ESTUARY LAND

Further representations to the Alameda county legislative delegation in the matter of the assembly bill to give Oakland free title to state claims to submerged lands and tidelands on the estuary are to be made, following the failure of the delegation to decide the question Thursday night. The meeting, which was set Wednesday to consider the question, was held over because of conflicting committee meetings that had to be attended at the state capital by the various assemblymen and senators of the delegation.

City Attorney H. L. Hagan has prepared letters showing that, as the issue is purely a local one, the delegation has a direct right to ask the Senate to receive the bill on the floor, despite the fact that it has been held since March 7 in the commerce and navigation committee of the Senate. He proposed to take a delegation of Oakland city officials and representatives of the Merchants' Exchange, Chamber of Commerce, and other local bodies behind the bill, to Sacramento to talk when the bill is before the Senate.

This action follows the session of Commissioners Fred Soderberg, F. F. Morse and Hagan with the legislative delegation Wednesday morning, when both sides of the case were heard. The city holds that the grant is in conformity with state policy, Hagan pointing out that, except Southern Pacific lands, would establish a precedent whereby the railroad might later have any other grant revoked by buying property adjoining it. The railroad representatives and others opposed the bill because it was held that it might mean an attack on their titles to estuary lands.

Opposed the bill because he held that "former City Attorney Mori threatened to take away my land." The delegation will meet on the bill again next week, according to Assemblyman Leon Gray's message to Hagan.

Former Officer in Consul Service Dies

Sylvester Stagnoli, formerly of the American consular service and more recently prominent in Central California summer camps, died this morning at a local sanatorium following a nervous collapse. Funeral services were conducted here this afternoon. The remains were shipped to Jackson, Alameda county, his home for a number of years, for interment.

Stagnoli was 46 years of age, a native of San Francisco and a member of the Native Sons' lodge. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lena R. Stagnoli, his mother, Mrs. L. R. Stagnoli, two brothers, C. G. Stagnoli, a local pharmacist, and Ernest B. D. Stagnoli, an attorney of Jackson, and a sister, Mrs. Edward L. da Rosa of Sacramento.

Stagnoli went soon after graduation, to Milan, Italy, where he was vice-consul under his father, the late V. B. Stagnoli, during the Cleveland administration. Returning to this state he settled at Jackson, where he was in business until the onset of the illness that led to his death.

Soldier Who Fell in Collapse Recovers

Corporal Frank Cava, who collapsed at the Sixteenth street station yesterday upon his arrival from Camp Meade, is able to be taken to his home, 334 Myrtle street, after treatment at the Receiving Hospital. Later he recovered entirely.

The soldier collapsed when he saw members of his family awaiting him, but missed his mother, who had died suddenly ten days ago. He had been told of his mother's death, but the shock of realization, when she was with the others of the family to greet him, proved too severe, and he collapsed in the arms of his brother.

Boys Are Blamed for Three-Time Burglary

The recent burglaries at the Alameda hardware store at 2813 Thirty-eighth avenue is the work of boys is the belief of Inspector Keefe and Thompson, who investigated the burglaries yesterday. Thursday night the place was entered by burglars for the third time this week. Entrance was gained by breaking through doors and windows.

MAKE YOUR SHOES
WEAR LONGER

Ten months ago, W. H. Kelley, a lumber salesman of Omaha, had a pair of shoes re-soled with Neolin Soles. Kelley does much walking and has worn these shoes constantly. He says "they are still good for another ten months."

Good shoe stores carry Neolin-soled shoes in many styles for men, women and children. They cost you no more than shoes that give less wear. Neolin Soles are also available everywhere for re-soles. Remember—these soles are created by science to be what soles should be. They are comfortable and waterproof—as well as long-wearing. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

Amateur Wireless
Operators Free to Receive After 15th

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(United Press).—All restrictions on radio receiving stations other than those used for regular commercial wireless business, will be removed April 15, acting secretary of the navy Roosevelt announced today. This applies to amateur stations, technical and experimental stations, schools, colleges and other non-commercial apparatus. Restrictions on sending stations are still in effect, but these and the restrictions on commercial wireless receiving stations will be abolished as soon as peace is officially proclaimed.

GAS PLANT IS BURNED; CITIES
WITHOUT GAS

MARTINEZ, Cal., April 12.—Fire destroyed the plant of the Contra Costa Gas Company early today and as a result practically every community in Contra Costa county will be without gas for at least two weeks. A number of industrial plants are affected.

In addition to Martinez, the towns of Antioch, Brentwood, Pittsburg, Crockett and several smaller communities are affected. At least 30,000 persons will be without gas.

The fire is believed to have been caused by defective wiring. The loss is $25,000. Harry Dow, an employee of the gas company, fought the fire with extinguishers until he was badly burned.

The officials of the company announced that the ruined plant will be rebuilt at once. They promise resumption of service in two weeks.

Police Control of Jitneys Questioned

How far the police have jurisdiction in the matter of deciding how many jitneys should be permitted on any Oakland street is the question City Attorney H. L. Hagan is considering as the result of protests made to Commissioner P. F. Morse by the Oakland street car lines that the jitneys now in operation are taking at least $9000 a month of their receipts.

Permits have been granted by the council for jitneys on streets where the recently passed "jitney ordinance" permits these machines, on the ground that the cars paralleling these streets could not adequately give service. The result has been that there are now nearly thirty jitneys in operation.

According to Morse, the process of permitting jitney permits on the recommendations of the chief of police was probably illegal under the ordinance, it being held by the commissioner that the council, and not the police, should have investigated and decided on the needs of the various streets affected.

Morse says he will lay the matter before the city council when Hagan's report is finished.

BERKELEY SPUR TRACK

"FLAT NOTE"
CHARGE RINGS
IN DIVORCE

It is quite bad enough, if you are an operatic prima donna, to have the critics find fault with you, but to have your husband find the same fault makes life monotonous. The critics you cannot get rid of, the husband you can. At least Amelia Galli-Curci, heroine of one of the most lightning-like ascents to fame the American opera history records, believes she can.

In New York they constantly cry at Galli-Curci that she sings off the key. Now she alleges, through a deposition filed in her divorce case by Cleofonte Campanini, impresario of the Chicago Opera Company, which claims her as one of its greatest stars, that her husband constantly pestered her with the same information.

"You sing flat," he charged on frequent occasions, according to Campanini. Could America's popular Violetta stand for it? Hardly.

Campanini tells worse than this on Luigi, the husband, however. He says that twice while Amelia was singing he heard the young women to the diva's apartments. Where this happened Campanini's deposition does not indicate.

But here in the West, which Signora Galli-Curci recently visited, it is remembered, by her western booking agent, Frank M. Healy, and others, that she was often bothered by the annoyances of a distant spouse. Healy says the popular soprano as among the most tractable of stars, operatic or dramatic.

Most dependable of his company, and "dependable" is a word almost left out of grand opera vocabularies.

JEWELRY, AUTOS,
CLOTHES, STOLEN

Two watches and a diamond sunburst of a total value of over $200 were stolen from the home of Mrs. O. J. Hall, 2315 Hughes avenue, by burglars who have reported to the police. The window while she was absent, she says.

Joseph Maggio, 2317 Peralta avenue, says that a burglar took a Swiss watch, a gold ring and $1 in thrift stamps. The following other thefts and burglaries have been reported to the police:

J. A. Longman, 2311 Peralta avenue, two gold rings and a pin; burglary.

Ah Wong, 619 Walsworth avenue, $5.65; burglary.

Michael Hansfield, 708 Washington street, army overcoat, pair of shoes and 45 cents; burglary.

E. H. Walker, 221 Franklin street, one suit of clothes.

Mrs. L. T. Ayers, 562 Oak street, handbag containing $15, stolen while shopping.

Dr. J. D. Grissin, 105 Mountain View avenue, seven-passenger Buick, stolen from Sixteenth and Broadway.

L. E. Travis, 2415 Twenty-seventh avenue, five-passenger Chevrolet stolen from East Eighteenth street and Twenty-fourth avenue.

R. J. Hill, 2027 Nichol avenue, five-passenger Studebaker, Union Iron Works.

DIVER BEGINS
HUNT FOR REED
CASE EVIDENCE

Aid of a "submarine detective" has been enlisted in the latest developments in the investigation of the death of Inez Elizabeth Reed, Oakland nurse. A diver from Mare Island today started a search about the end of Pier 37, seeking a handbag, supposed to have contained effects of the dead Oakland nurse, and which, it is believed by detectives, was thrown into the bay from the pier.

In the meantime District Attorney Swart of San Mateo county has demanded that Mrs. Frances Cronin and Miss Marian Ayres, witnesses in the case of Dr. Ephraim Northcott, accused of having performed the operation that caused the girl's death, be brought before him at once.

He says that attorneys for the defense, Northcott, who has been recently suspended from the San Francisco police force, and who admitted borrowing automobiles to drive to the Northcott "mystery house," had been seen about Pier No. 37, according to Matheson, who has information that a satchel was dropped into the bay off the pier. This satchel may disclose effects of the dead nurse.

This would, Matheson says, probably establish the last link in the police case by indicating who drove the auto in which the girl's body was taken to the Half Moon Bay road and dropped.

Boys' Hobby Exhibit Draws
Great Variety of Articles

A glimpse of the "hobbies" exhibited in the boys' room at the Oakland Y.M.C.A. CHAS. DORAN is watching the prize Chinese bantams which he exhibited and FREDERICK STOLL is surveying one of the many aeroplanes.

Oakland Y. M. C. A. Show Will Close Tonight
With Award Distribution

Want to know what goes on in a boy's mind? Then see the hobby exhibit this evening at the Oakland Y. M. C. A. This exhibit is held annually. Each year the members of the boys' department loan their hobby products of the year. This year hobbies appear to have been as numerous as flu cases. Their variety, as the exhibit indicates, is beyond enumeration.

Battleships and aeroplanes have a special prominence this year. The war has boosted their stock 100 per cent. Some of the aeroplanes exhibited actually fly. Propellers that are driven by stout rubber bands fan the air so fast they blur in the sight.

Stamp collections, of course, play an important part in the exhibit. Banners of every conceivable connection, or no connection at all, cover yards and yards of felt pennants. There are plaster of paris casts on which maps are cleverly sketched. One boy even brought a live hobby—two Chinese bantams in a pen. Another exhibits an automobile he had made himself. Others show collections of tools, their own handiwork. Postcards are present; there must be a million of them.

Although the exhibit opened last evening, only half of the good things in the program were carried through then. Motion pictures were shown, and the boys' orchestra, directed by Miss Alice R. Dean, gave a concert in the lobby. This orchestra includes Theodora Taylor, Frances Brown, Ralph Brandt, Robert Fretzmann, Franklin Bradbury, Wilfred Smith, Prentiss Percovich and Ray Poorman.

View of the exhibits began this morning at 9:30 o'clock, and will continue until 10 o'clock tonight. Basketball games and aquatic sports were part of today's program. Tonight at 7:30 o'clock there will be a whole carnival of activities in the gymnasium. Teams appearing will include the junior and junior business boys, the "Baby Golds," who won the 130-pound Pacific Athletic Association championship, and the senior business boys. Announcement of awards in the hobby exhibit will be made at 9 o'clock.

W. M. Ballard, wanted in Stockton for passing bad checks, was arrested at 606 Ninth street last night by Inspector Rossick and was turned over to the Stockton police today.

Of awards in the hobby exhibit will be made at 9 o'clock.

EX-SOLDIER
TELLS POLICE
OF SWINDLE

Charges that returned soldiers seeking employment are being victimized to the extent of $50 or thereabouts apiece by the supposed proprietor of a New Mexico wool company have been laid before the San Francisco police by George H. De Kay Jr., son of a Berkeley capitalist. He gives the name of the man he accuses as either Simpson or Groose, and declares he was misled of that amount by "Simpson" in negotiations for his fare to Las Vegas to accept a job with the wool company.

De Kay, who is a graduate of the Berkeley high school and a former student in the University of California, was formerly in the army aviation service. That several other ex-soldiers have met the same treatment is a claim which he has made to the police.

An advertisement for a managerial position which De Kay inserted in the papers about the bay was answered, he says, by this man, who gave him the name of J. W. Simpson and his address as the St. Francis Hotel. De Kay says he met "Simpson," that the latter claimed to be a Groose of the Groose-Kelley Wool Company of Las Vegas, and that he hired De Kay on April 9 as manager of the New Mexico plant.

De Kay claims to have paid Groose $50.50 with which the latter was to purchase De Kay's ticket to Las Vegas at the same time as he purchased his own. He says Groose promised to meet him at a certain time at the Santa Fe station in Berkeley, but failed to appear there. He alleges he subsequently made every effort to find Groose, both at the St. Francis and elsewhere, but failed.

Groose's description has been furnished by De Kay to the San Francisco police, who are investigating his claims.
